LOCKE MILLS MEETING TO DISCUSS RESCUE AND/OR FIRST RESPONDER UNIT

There will be a meeting on Wednesday, April 21, 1982, at 7:30 p.m. at the Locke Mills Town Hall for all people interested in the possible organization of a rescue and/or first responder unit. In the past several months, several people have expressed the desire to see such a unit formed to possibly insure a faster response time to the ill party. Depending on the type of illness or injury, the treatment received in the first few minutes could mean the difference between life and death.

If you have any interest in such a group being organized in the Town of Greenwood, please arrange to attend this meeting. The interest shown at this meeting will probably determine if the issue is pursued or dropped.

There is no need to pre-register for the Money Series program, which will begin at 7 p.m.

The Board of Selectmen met Monday evening, April 12, in the meeting room of the Bethel Savings Bank and acted on several matters of importance.

Ron Gilbert and Sherwood Jordan met with the Board to discuss their applications for obtaining licenses for their proposed restaurant "The Pits" to be located on the Grover Hill Road. More than 30 people attended the meeting and questioned the board and applicants about noise, parking, menu, police protection and facilities. Following an executive meeting, the Board denied all three licenses.

The Board approved Burton Mills' application for a weapons permit. They also approved the renewal of permits for Keith Bartlett and Richard Littlefield.

The Selectmen re-appointed Garrett Bonema, David Brown and Lawrence Davis to the Community Safety and Law Enforcement Committee. Richard McCann was appointed as a Police Department Special Officer and Constable.

Roland Glines, newly elected Chairman of the Municipal Facilities Committee, met with the Board to receive plans for the development of the Cole Block. Renovations must be made to lessen energy consumption. Town Manager William Judson was requested to prepare a written charge for the committee to be presented to the Selectmen for final approval.

The Board acted on the Fire Department's request to purchase two Forestry Department Motorola radio sets, one to be funded from the Fire Department Vehicle Improvement Fund at the cost of $309.75 and the second to be purchased from the Fireman's Fund at no cost to the town. The radio purchased from the Vehicle Improvement Fund will be installed in the newly renovated tanker truck to enhance its usefulness in the fire-fighting team. The other radio, purchased by the firemen themselves at no taxpayer expense, will be used by the Fire Chief to direct behind the scene and on-scene fire fighting activities.

GEOLOGY TEACHERS MET AT GOULD ACADEMY, APRIL 9-10

On Friday and Saturday, April 9-10, over 50 teachers and students of geology met for the 30th annual meeting of the New England section of the National Association of Geology Teachers.

Friday night's program featured Rick Chandler, an oceanographer from Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, who related his experiences at sea doing research on the ocean floor. Rick is a graduate of Gould and Bowdoin College and has sailed extensively throughout the North Atlantic and Pacific Oceans in search of data for his research.

Saturday's program included a number of presenters who touched on a variety of topics. Dabney Caldwell, from Boston University, discussed Continental Glaciation and Water Pollution; Professor Roy Farnsworth, Bates College, the glacial features of the Andover-Bryant Pond areas; Dave Westerman, Colby College, recent seismic activity in South-Central Maine; Tom Eastler, University of Maine-Farmington, erosional problems along the Sandy River in Farmington, and State Geologist Walter Anderson told of the problems his department is working on throughout the State of Maine.

The annual banquet was held at the Sunday River Inn, where Dr. Charles D. Hollister, Dean of Graduate Studies at Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution and one of the institutions' chief scientists, spoke about his work and the type of student who would best fit into the multi-disciplinary field of Oceanography.

NOTES FROM

Evans Notch

White Mountain National Forest

The Evans Notch Ranger District is now engulfed in what is commonly known as mud season. To protect the various resources, most logging operations have been closed down. Several Forest Service roads have been closed to all use to protect the soft roadbed. These closures will remain in effect until the frost has left the ground and the roads have dried out. The Deer Hill Road will continue to be closed to all vehicles except loggers operating timber sales along its route and Forest Service vehicles.

Despite evidence to the contrary there are signs of spring to be seen. Robins have been with us for nearly three weeks. Other birds seen are killdeer, mourning doves, woodcock and mockingbird. The great blue heron have returned to the area, and a trucker brought in a pied-billed grebe which had flown into the side of his truck. This bird had been stunned and was later released in a nearby brook. It should be pointed out that the Evans Notch Ranger District does not have provisions to care for injured wildlife. As a result, we cannot accept these birds and animals. With regard to spring on the other side of the coin, one of our northern friends, the hawk owl was seen on the District on March 24. Hopefully this bird has continued its journey northward and will take the ice and snow with him.

Approximately 70 duck nesting boxes have been surveyed recently. The survey revealed about 60 wood ducks hatched. Several boxes were molested during the past season by humans and animals. Other users included hooded mergansers, yellow shafted flickers, black birds and flying squirrels. 18 flying squirrels were found in one duck box. Natural cavities needed by wood ducks for nesting are becoming increasingly scarce, and the public is encouraged not to molest these nesting boxes.

Bids are being accepted for the planting of approximately 41,000 white pine and 7,000 red spruce seedlings on 79 acres of District lands ravaged by the windstorm of December, 1980. A showing will be held for prospective bidders on Thursday, April 15, at 9:00 a. m. at Evergreen Valley Ski Area.

Applications are being accepted for the summer Youth Conservation Corps. Application forms may be picked up at the District Office on Bridge Street in Bethel and should be submitted before April 28, 1982. Applicants must be 15-18 years of age and capable of moderate physical labor. Two boys and one girl will be chosen for the program. Work will include trail maintenance, campground maintenance and wildlife habitat maintenance.

The Forest Service will be accepting bids for the painting of property lines and replacement of boundary corners. On the Evans Notch District there will be 7.5 miles of line to be painted and 20 corners to be remonumented. This work covers portions of both Maine and New Hampshire and bidders must be licensed surveyors in both states. Bids must reach the Forest Supervisor, White Mountain National Forest, Lacombe, N. H., by the close of business on April 16, 1982.

Wasn't that a lovely Spring storm that sneaked by Joe Cupo, the weatherman? And I don't like to hear the wind blow so hard and so long a time. We will be shoveling the stuff until July and maybe we can freeze our ice cream with the white stuff for the fourth of July. My brother from New Jersey didn't come and we were so glad for the snow was so deep. He can do better house hunting in fairer weather.

Easter was a beautiful day for the outdoor sunrise services and I hope they were well attended and also hope that no one caught a cold. Could it be a weather breeder or just another sunny day?

Doris Lawrence went to her eye doctor in Lewiston on April 6. Marietta Penley accompanied her and they called on Maynard Emery and Lennie Pearson at the Central Maine Medical Center. They also called on Mrs. Helen Emery, Mechanic Falls. When it started to spit snow, they hurried home.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett White, Merrimac, Mass., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vatcher. Their three children also came and they were surprised that we still had snow, as it was all bare ground at their home.

Joe Vatcher has infection in his neck where he had a cyst removed, so he had a couple quick trips to the doctor at Norway.

Callers at Lawrence's: Albert Penley Sr., Ruby Wing and daughter, Suzette, Joe and Eveline Vatcher, Lloyd Huntley.

Lennie Pearson came home from the hospital, April 10, and will go back April 14 for a few days.

Joe Vatcher, Harlan Abbott, Dick Bean and friend, attended the Sportsman's Show at Augusta Saturday.

We have had fun this past week, making ice cream with the large goose eggs and a few duck eggs. Our crop of ducks turned out to be six drakes and one duck after the fox raided the duck pen. So if some one would like to make a swap we'll talk business.

Bertrand Rugg Sr. has returned from the hospital and is convalescing at the home of E. Morey at Norway Lake. During his absence from home, his son Donald and wife are taking care of his home and tending fires.

Clyde Stanton was in Lewiston Tuesday on business.

Schools had an unexpected vacation Wednesday due to the heavy snow.

Jo Sanderson and Clyde Stanton worked Monday night at the Legion Hall, Norway, on the game party lunch.

The Friendly Senior Citizens had to cancel their Easter meeting Wednesday, due to the winter storm, which was the heaviest we have had for 1982. The Worlds Fair Association had to cancel their meeting for the same reason and it will be on April 14, weather permitting.

Gladys Knight had her driveway gravelled recently.

Clyde Stanton took Jo Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bean and Scott Brown of Bethel, to a restaurant in Berlin for Sunday dinner.

Don't forget to feed the birds, as it is hard for them to find food, especially those that have returned early. The snow has covered all their food. Thank you.

It was strange not to have a "Sun" on Wednesday, April 7, but we survived. As Albert Russ in years gone by used to say, it wasn't a fit day for man or beast to be outside. No school buses and no company.

Harold Vatcher died at the Norway hospital shortly after arrival early Monday morning. He had been under the doctor's care all winter. Funeral services were held in Saugus, Mass.

The Woodstock Historical Society was very pleasantly entertained last Saturday evening by Bob and Jane Grover who gave a fascinating demonstration of Stained Glass Making. Their work was colorful and intricate and they presented the result, a delicate glass flower, to the Society as an exhibit. Ruby Emery also presented a very carefully researched and detailed report on the history of the mills in Woodstock. In addition, the Society decided to help the school reproduce the murals in the hall for preservation, and it will sponsor a tour of the museum for the Senior Citizens at their next meeting.

The Woodstock Extension will meet on Wednesday, April 21, at the Town Hall, at 10:30. This meeting will be on Wok Cookery.

Olive Davis, Gail Butterfield and turer's Conference at Augusta, Saturday, April 3. They called on Edith Bryant as they went down to Winthrop. It was rather a hard trip home as it snowed to Mechanic Falls. The roads were slushy and grew more slippery as I reached home.

Carl and Lettie Brooks, Olive Davis, Kay Billings and Richard Felt attended Franklin Grange Monday night. Tuesday, April 6, Lettie invited me to go to the Senior Citizens meeting at West Paris. Frank Knox and Emma Lowe entertained. It was very good. When we came out it started snowing. After I got home Carl called and said the Pomona Master Lewis Marcotte had cancelled the Pomona meeting which was to be held with Bear Pond, South Waterford. The roads were very slippery.

Ernestine Riley called on me Tuesday afternoon. Well, our promise of a few inches of snow in Maine turned out to be a full blown blizzard. In fact every door in my house was blocked until David Emery broke out the driveway and helped me shovel out doors. It was 4" above and wind blowing, so it was rather cold work. The drift in front of the barn was almost as high as the piles on each side of the drive, which were about five feet. The poor little birds took a beating in this. I hope everyone is feeding them. Anyway, I got nine dust mops made during this weather.

I met with the committee on Safety, Thursday afternoon to

RECEIVES VERRILL POEMS

Ernestine Riley recently donated a collection of poems on Bryant Pond written by her grandfather, Alton J. Verrill, to the Woodstock Historical Society. They offer a valuable perspective on the town in years gone by. The following is a portrait of the town when Main Street was handsome with shade trees:

Bryant Pond
There's a quiet, little village
Snuggled down among the hills
By Lake Christopher's placid waters
Fed by mountain streams and rills.
Here beside these tranquil waters
With Mount Christopher beyond
Like a special gem of beauty
Lies the village, Bryant Pond.
As you travel on the highway
Through the village winding down
You will see there stately shade trees.

Adding beauty to the town.
Here are stores and shops whose keepers
Deal with courtesy and care,
And you find a friendly spirit
All around you everywhere.
Makes you feel some kindly fairy
Has been busy with her wand
Handing our good will and beauty
To this village, Bryant Pond.
All around this little village
There are things to please the eye.

Just a short ride to the seashore
Or to mountains, grand and high.
There are lakes and chattering trout brooks
Where the hungry brook trout wait
While the stately antlered red deer
Roams the forests with his mate.
On her highways or her byways
Ferns and flowers with bloom and frond.

Give a welcome to the beauty
You will find in Bryant Pond.
Mr. Verrill's other poems are available for perusal at the Society Museum.

Mrs. Ed Daye was in Portland on April 2, visiting friends in the Maine Medical Center.

Everyone had a good time at the canoe races on Saturday, April 3, although it hailed and snowed. A couple of the canoes tipped over getting passengers wet to their waist. Penny Fleet and Gerry Gauthier were newcomers to canoe racing and enjoyed it very much.

We have been seeing a bald eagle at the end of the Sunday River road. He is very pretty.

Mrs. Nancy Kimball and her mother, Mrs. Mary Morin, were in Lewiston Saturday, April 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Harthorne and Debbie were in Belfast over the weekend of April 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell and friends of Westwood, Mass., were at the Russell home for the week end of April 3.

Thought spring had arrived until we got the 14 inches of snow. Guess we never know about the good old weather man.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Yates were in Portland one day.

Little Eva Yates has been sick and had an ear infection. She is on the gain.

Mr. and Mrs. David Fleet called on Julia Fleet at Ledgeview Nursing home. She was feeling real good. She had a real good Easter.

Sent in by Eva Yates

News morning is here again—How fast they roll around. I wonder how many enjoyed our April blizzard. Not me. The wind blew so it would be any ones guess as to the real amount of snow that fell, only it was too much. We have aired the Go-Shoes a little. Russell and I were in Norway for a doctor's appointment Thursday and again yesterday. Russell, Peggy and your truly went to Laura's at East Andover and then went to church with her. Preston and Lucy Cobb also went to church with us. A nice sermon—a good time followed by a most delicious dinner of ham, roast pork, baked chicken, vegetable, dandelion greens, topped off with pie and, oh yes, monkey bread. We introduced seven new people to monkey bread and each one was delighted and called it yummy. Monkey bread or not Evelyn, you can come see me any time.

Easter morning dawned clear and bright and it was nice and warm—here's hoping we get several of these good warm days. I am not sure what or where the Go-Shoes will be this week. Peggy Blake returned to the Bull Dog Diner this morning after a weeks vacation. She enjoyed the blizzard in Auburn with her daughter, Myrna White. Saturday afternoon drop in callers at Yates were Arlene Myshall of Mexico and Mrs. B. H. Yates, local.

I wonder if the maple syrup makers will get a second run of sap now.

Two of our selectmen were on the river looking things over Saturday. They used to come every year and take valuation.

The latest report on Viva Whitman and daughter Wynona is that they are slowly recovering from their auto accident. Blood clots have to have a lot of time to disappear.

Peggy Blake was in Rumford one day this past week on business.

Russell Yates has several flats of garden seeds growing so he hopes for an early summer.

When I went to church Evelyn, only one lady had on a hat and that was not an Easter bonnet.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Adams and baby of Sweden joined us at the Hutchins home at East Andover to partake of the Easter feast they gave us.

The snow machines were out and on the go Saturday and Sunday forenoon. Jim Swan was hauling pulp with his and a small sled. Anything to keep busy.

The terrific wind of Tuesday and Wednesday did pile up some hard old drifts in places like it used to do when I was a kid and what fun it used to be to run and walk all over them.

Easter has passed but wait a bit on packing those warm red flannels in moth balls. Surprises come in all ways.

He graduated from Gould Academy in 1952 where he was captain of the ski team and was New England, as well as eastern United States cross country champion. He also excelled in track, winning the class B mile in the State track meet in 1951.

Walking With Jesus Christ

What will become of us—what is heaven like? What about a Christian now?

1 Peter 1:3 "To those who through the righteousness of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ have received a faith as precious as ours"—"His divine power has given us everything we need for life and godliness through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness." "Through these he has given us his very great and precious promises, so that through them you may participate in the divine nature and escape the corruption in this world caused by evil desires."

By this we know that a Christian is "born again"—having received of a divine nature—a gift of God, the Holy Spirit.

Matthew 11:28—"Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest." Now that is for everybody—"whoever will." What a fantastic thing, to receive of God—his own precious promise—a divine gift!

What is heaven like? Well, when John, a disciple of Christ—was on the Island of Patmos—God made known to Christians "what must soon take place"—by sending his angel to the servant John to write—"the words of this prophecy." The Book of Revelation. Much of this book is still a mystery, though it is very rapidly being revealed to us now, it declines to tell us what heaven is like. John saw and heard much—and when about to write, perhaps a description—a voice from heaven said—"Seal up what the seven thunders have said and do not write it down."

REBEL PASTIMERS CONTINUE PRESEASON WORKOUTS

With the snow and rain continuing to fall the Telstar Rebel baseball team is getting a severe case of gym-fever. The continued inclement weather has set the team back about two weeks as far as their pre-season training goes. The pitchers and catchers are now working the equivalent of a four inning game every other day. The infielders and outfielders are working on game situations, and all players are working on their baserunning. The pitching machine, being capably run by manager Stephanie Smith, runs continuously for two hours with all boys getting 18-20 pitches to hit a night. David

Washington Watch

by Olympia J. Snowe
Member of Congress
2nd District, Maine

A move to repeal ill-gotten tax breaks for members of Congress has begun in the House of Representatives.

Last December, an amendment was tacked onto a black-lung benefits bill instructing the Treasury Department to set levels for deductions of living expenses by members while living in Washington. The unprinted amendment, which originated in the Senate, passed in the House along with the benefits package. This back-door approach brought justifiable outrage from the public and embarrassment to the Congress.

Since that time, many bills have been introduced to repeal the tax breaks. The bills have continued to languish in committee, but that may change soon.

Last week, I joined about 50 members of Congress in co-signing a discharge petition on one of the bills. The petition, if endorsed by 218 House members, will bring a bill to repeal the tax breaks to the floor for a vote by the full House.

To protest this action taken by Congress, I will not accept the tax breaks when I file my returns this month, and I have introduced legislation to force separate, roll-call votes on similar actions in the future. It's time that Congress aired its dirty laundry before the public, and consideration of these bills can help to accomplish that goal.

Navigational Aids: Funding shortfalls in the Coast Guard have threatened key installations and manpower, and now navigational aids for manpower are in jeopardy.

The Coast Guard, bowing to personal cutbacks that will make maintenance of buoys difficult, has announced a program to discontinue about 150 of the navigational aids off the Maine coast. Ideally any buoys that are removed would be of a non-essential nature, but the Coast Guard is asking for public input on the necessity of the aids.

Boaters and fishermen are being asked to specify in writing buoys of particular value to navigational safety. In all likelihood, crucial buoys will be maintained. Suggestions should be made immediately to: Capt. Peter Rots, Office of Navigation, Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington, D. C. 20593.

Small Business Week: Small and independent businesses in the United States provide our nation with 55% of all jobs. In Maine, the percentage is greater.

The value of small businesses to the vitality of our economy cannot be questioned. Accordingly, I have introduced legislation in the House to proclaim the week of May 9-15 as National Small Business Week.

Two out of three new jobs originate in the small business community. Almost 40% of our gross national product comes from this sector, as well as 50% of all innovations. In Maine, small and independent businesses literally are the backbone of our economy.

Orphan Drugs: Persons suffering from rare diseases need special medication as badly as patients with common afflictions, but a Catch-22 dilemma often prevents the drugs (known as orphan drugs) from being readily available.

Since rare diseases afflict few Americans, drug companies find it unprofitable to produce the drugs in necessary quantities. Costs outdistance the revenues that the companies can expect to reap from producing the drugs.

While this economic reality is logical, it certainly doesn't help to heal those with rare afflictions. The logic here becomes tragic.

Therefore, I recently co-sponsored legislation to establish a committee on Orphan Drug Development under the Department of Health and Human Services. The committee would promote development of orphan drugs by providing flexibility in regulations governing approval of orphan drugs. Also, financial incentives would be provided to pharmaceutical companies to produce orphan drugs.

Clarice Gibson, Corres.

Friday and Easter Sunday were both nice days after the storm earlier in the week. Tuesday morning was a clear morning but cold. Tried to get the car started to go into town but didn't succeed. In the afternoon it started snowing and by Wednesday morning guess we had 16 inches or more. No school Wednesday and guess more than one person didn't get home from work. Joe Shimamura is on the night shift and he didn't get home Wednesday. George went to work in Norway but left earlier than usual. Today, 12th, the temperature is 36° and cloudy. Easter my folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, came for dinner and visit. While they were here Wilfred called from Hawaii and Ira called from El Toro, Calif., so they both got to talk to their grandparents. After dinner George went over to spend the afternoon and evening with Frankie and family. James and Sue called in the afternoon and Frank called his mother, Thirza Gibson, and sister Roberta Peverar, Hampton, N. H., in the evening. Before the folks left Frank went out and dug parsnips after removing eight inches of snow. Guess the ground isn't frozen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy had their son, Dean, and family, spend the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hamon and girls had for Sunday dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Arseneault and Matthew.

Saturday Elaine Hutchins took her daughter, Shilo, and Marybeth and Amy Hamon, to their gymnastics class at Oxford Hills, South Paris.

Joe and Gerry Shimamura went to the Sunrise Service at the Bethel Gospel Center. Several churches combined services in the morning.

Mrs. Evelyn Hilborn returned Sunday after a visit with her friend Ellen in Toronto, Canada. On the way to Toronto she went as far as Peterborough, Ont., and stayed overnight with Ellen's sister, Lillie Robb. Mrs. Robb went the rest of the way with Evelyn to visit also with her Ellen. While in Canada they visited the Ojibwa Tribe and bought a few articles. Evelyn also went to the Menominee Country a couple of times and went to the Maple Syrup Festival. Once Mrs. Robb went with her and once Mrs. Thomson. Evelyn said that gasoline has gone up as well as eating but just since she was up last time to visit. Coming back she spent Saturday night in St. Albans, Vt. At the Menominee Country one can buy many items such as maple syrup, cheeses, vegetables, butter as they are similar to our Amish people.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson went to their daughter Sylvia Gardner's and two sons, Sabattus. Their youngest grandson, called them up in the morning and asked them to come as he hadn't been well and wanted Grammie and Grampa to visit. They also stopped at Sylvia's mother, Sylvia Foss, Hebron, for a short visit.

Good Friday, Dick, Sue, Kristy, and Timmy Angevine, had Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine for a ham supper and Sunday Dick and family had Ricky Angevine and Laurie Vogt up for a turkey dinner.

Timmy was home from school sick Monday.

Thursday, Kathie Chapman, her cousin, Jan Taylor and children, Tanya, Lisa and two friends, Mike and Chris, flew into Portland Jetport and hired a car to Bethel to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman. Friday night, Louise, Sarah and Allison Chapman joined them for supper. Also at Frank and Ida's for Sunday dinner were Tony Chapman, Mary Chapman, Craig Paul, Sarah Shepley, Macki Chapman and two boys, Doug, Didi and Adam Smith visited after dinner and Didi called her mother, Betsy Chapman Wise and family in North Carolina. Others present also talked with Betsy.

Howard Chapman went into the Androscoggin Valley Hospital Wednesday but should be home by early week.

While visiting from Florida the young people all went skiing at Sunday River, and returned Sunday.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason and Melinda had an Easter Egg Hunt for Charles and Ruth's grandchildren. Those who came were Chuckie, Kathie and three children, David, Belinda and Callers at Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Smiths were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knights, daughter Kathy of Oxford, Jeffery W. Wilcox, Francine Twitchell.

Easter Sunrise Service at 5:30, Frontier camp, West Lovell, a bus met the cars. Thirty three to the service and at breakfast. Regular 10:30 service, a full church. Donald Tripp sang the Lord's Prayer. Sally Wilson played the flute. Other special music. Several were taken into the church. Best of all a nice Easter dinner for all to enjoy.

Leroy Smith balled on his daughter, Beverly Bassett.

Pauline Smith was on the cancer drive for Slab City, Heald Pond, some of the Cushman Pond road. Thanks to those who helped by giving.

In spite of awful cold night and wind Leroy, Pauline Smith, and Iva Fox had boiled dinner with Muriel Pratt.

Peter Fox family visited at Iva Fox's Sunday.

Monday, snow again.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Christopher entertained their children on Easter.

Linda Allen drove her mother, Iva Fox, and myself, Aunt Polly, to see Marion Kendall Tuesday. Just made it before the blizzard—was it cold in Norway that day.

Rose Mary Smith son Josh of Bethel with friends visited Iva Fox.

Leroy and Pauline Smith called on Stephen Fox family, saw what a lot of work Step has done on the house. Also a nice call on Bill and Dottie Force on the Heald's Pond road.

The Lemays and Crosbys had dinner in Norway Easter Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Moore were here for the Easter holiday and attended both Easter services.

Around 80 attended the Maundy Thursday service at the Church. Pot luck supper. Fine service upstairs with the Lord's supper. Acting the Lord's Supper on the stage, 12 men and the Lord, very impressive.

Two children, Scott, Roxie and two children, Melinda made each one of the children an Easter Bunny Rabbit cookie. Melinda also made up a basket of goodies for Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCoy left March 10 to April 7 for a Florida vacation. They came through from Connecticut (I believe) Wednesday after the storm. From Portland to Locke Mills they met only one car. They did, however, at the foot of Poland Spring Hill, see a car which had collided with a snowplow. The McCoy's stayed at Plant City and took side trips from there. Some trips included Busch Gardens, Disney World, Sea World and Marineland. They spent one day at the Players Championship Golf Tournament at Ponte Vedra, Fla., which Jerry Pate won. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Quinn in Largo, Fla. A nice trip but glad to be home.

Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw and twins drove to Boston, Mass., Saturday to visit his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Jules Shaw and his uncle, Arthur Goldstein. Also visiting were Dr. Leonard Shaw's brother, David, and family.

Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw and twins, went to her family Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keniston. There they were joined by Becky's Grammie Keniston and Grammie Davis, Peter Keniston, Farmington, and Stacey Hutchins, Waterville, also David, Jody, Heath and Heather Keniston.

Mr. and Mrs. Scot Bills were the parents of a six pound girl born Sunday at the C.M.M.C., Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Butters and Leslie Lapham went to Angelo Onofrio's funeral Friday morning.

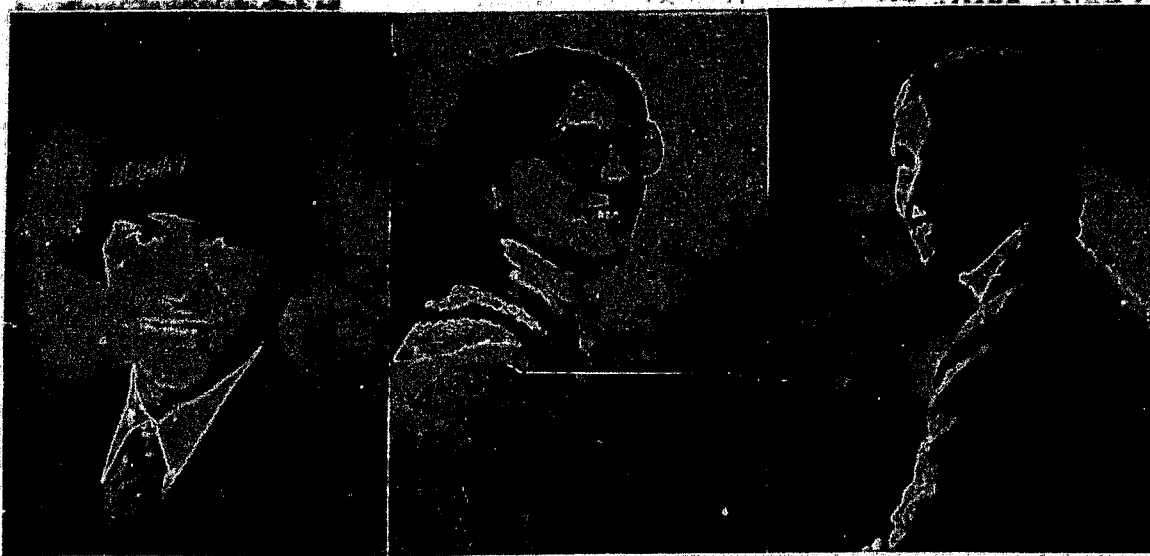

Recent callers at Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham's were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, Rev. and Mrs. Millett Cummings, and Jessie and Myra Doyen.

Doug, Didi and Adam Smith had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Jr., and Andy.

Happy is the people whose God is the Lord.

Mr. and Mrs.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —
Others have written of the April storm. Now here is my version.

I have read there is a midsummer. There is a midwinter. But there is no mid autumn or mid spring. I think now that perhaps that is true.

Just when wings and feathers became a part of the arrival of spring we turned back in time. How true the verse from "Two Tramps in Mud Time" by Robert Frost.

"The sun was warm but the wind was chill."

You know how it is with an April day

When the sun is out and the wind is still,

You're one month on in the month of May.

But if you so much as dare to speak,

A cloud comes over the sunlit arch,

A wind comes off a frozen peak,

And you're two months back in the middle of March!"

On April 6, at twenty minutes to one P. M. the first snow flakes began to fall. The sky was dark and steady. Darkness deepened.

A single crow cawed and the sound echoed as in a vast closed room. I watched it disappear into the forest.

The snow became a darkening bank that covered the sky and valley.

Swish, far off, sudden wind played in the trees on the far hills, then moved down to sweep the whole valley.

The cloud banks and snow fall, turned everything black and ominous. After a few minutes it seemed a bit lighter. But again the wind roared from hill to hill echoing and creaking trees and house.

Sweeping down the pond the dancing snow was like hurrying waves piling on and on to the woods.

A few birds came, fighting like kites against the wind to get their seeds, especially the chickadees, bless their little souls.

Dark overgreens of the woods far up the mountains turned to white and the white marched down the slopes. The rush of the wind increased to a roar. The whole valley seemed to shiver.

At bed time the porch door and front windows were plastered with snow. We knew it would be a rough night. It was. The wind moaned and cried at the windows. Tree limbs rubbed together beyond the house producing somber and distressing noises. All night this continued. At daybreak an avalanche of white that tore the senses lay over everything.

Wind had a feeling of achievement at having the valley at its mercy. It continued for another 30 or more hours.

Dawn again crept slowly up in the east spraying the dark sky overhead with brightness. Things had been transformed. The world was white-white and lots of depth to be taken away.

We'll look now for the white cathedral of a cloud floating serenely in the blue of the sky, hoping again for warmth and spring.

Club Eight met at my home on Thursday. We enjoyed the afternoon and Fay Holt was the prize winner.

Ardell and Betty Hayes, Auburn, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Tamminen, and his mother, Doris Hayes, on Saturday. Duane and Scot Hayes, West Paris, were there on Thursday.

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Last week's blizzard covered all the bare spots spring had revealed.

High winds and cold temperatures combined to keep John the mailman below the notch one day and the school children home two days. It was an experience best forgotten yet long remembered as unusual for an April week.

Easter Sunday was far nicer than forecast and the sun rose on a calm and pleasant April day.

Those attending the early sunrise services were especially appreciative.

Congratulations to Linda Blais for her outstanding academic achievements. She is among the top ten of the Telstar graduating class.

Gilles Viens has begun spring work for James River Corp.

Proposed Student Aid Cuts Would Affect Over Half of Maine's College Students

The massive federal student aid cuts proposed in the Administration's fiscal year 1983 budget, if enacted, would have a severe impact on Maine's students and on the state's university and colleges. Based on a survey I recently conducted among Maine's post-secondary education institutions, I have found that the college plans of 5,000 Maine students would be affected by those cuts by the fall of 1983.

I am opposed to those cuts, and I will fight all efforts to reduce funding for student aid programs below the level that they were funded in fiscal year 1982.

The nation cannot afford these cuts. If America stands for anything, it stands for equality of opportunity, especially in education. Millions of working people have benefited from grants and low-cost federal loans to help finance their children's college education. I believe firmly that we must maintain the grant and loan program to ensure higher access to education for all.

Maine already ranks 48th in the nation in terms of the number of high school graduates who attend college. It is clear that the state's low per capita income has already eliminated college as an option for many of our youth. The proposed cuts would only exacerbate that trend.

Expenditures for the education of our young people are truly an investment in our future. Not only is it an investment in knowledge, but it is a sound fiscal investment as well. Each person who graduates from college earns and pays taxes on over half a million dollars more than someone who does not graduate from high school. Obviously, reductions in financial aid that prevent our youth from furthering their education is simply a false economy.

These proposed cuts in student financial aid would come on top of significant reductions in these programs last year, and the elimination of social security benefits for 3,725 post-secondary students in Maine. A recent survey which I conducted among post-secondary institutions in Maine revealed that the 1982 fiscal year cuts mean 1,688 Maine college students will not be able to enter school this fall. The additional cuts proposed in the 1983 budget would be two to four times greater.

Additionally, it is important to note that the proposed cuts could result in a significant shift from enrollment in the more expensive private colleges to the state university. Not only could this be a fatal blow to those private schools which rely on tuition payments for a large portion of their operating expenses, it would mean that Maine's taxpayers would have to bear the cost of the increased enrollment at the university, and other public institutions.

As one Maine college president told me recently, "The proposed cuts will ravage public higher education in Maine." Another said, "The reduction of existing financial aid would mean increased costs to the taxpayers of Maine. If financial aid is reduced further, many students now attending independent colleges may be forced to enroll in public universities. Moreover . . . (they) will prohibit many students from receiving a college education, and this, in the long run, is simply wrong for our country."

"I agree, and I will continue to support student aid programs, because they are in the best interests of the people of Maine, and the nation, and in our future."

POLITENESS AND ENTHUSIASM NEXT IN "THE CHRISTIANS" FILM SERIES

The seventh in the film series "The Christians" sponsored by the University of Maine at Farmington and the Maine State Library with the support of the Maine Humanities Council and the National Endowment for the Humanities in cooperation with the Bethel Historical Society will be held Wednesday, April 21, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason Museum, 7:30 p. m.

The film entitled "Politeness and Enthusiasm" examines the origins of modern revivalism in the 18th century when the scriptures were brought from behind the closed doors of polite, aristocratic churches to the ordinary people.

On the eve of the French Revolution, 129 of 130 French bishops came from noble families. It was as dangerous to criticize the church as it was the nobility. The French writer Voltaire did both and was quickly exiled to England.

The church in England had its own kind of elitism. God appeared to be an English country gentleman who ran the world as an aristocrat ran his estate. During this "Age of Reason," it was the "reasonableness" of the English God that Voltaire found appealing. The Church of England was a decent and respectable body which prayed devoutly for the long life of the status quo.

The artist Hogarth captured the mood in his engraving "The Sleeping Congregation." The first voices to arouse the church were George Whitefield and John Wesley. Whitefield was loud and energetic. Forced to preach in the open air, he could mesmerize the thousands of coal miners and workers who gathered to hear him describe the torments of Hell. Whitefield traveled to America where revivalism and other forms of religious enthusiasm would find his ministry, forming small Methodist communities wherever he went in England and Wales.

Voltaire had returned to France where he fought the injustices of the French church. When he died his body was smuggled out of Paris to protect it from desecration by the "Clergy." His body was

That same year, John Wesley died in England. And though the Methodist Church eventually lost much of its enthusiasm, Wesley and Whitefield had launched a tradition of revival that would bring the spirit back to where it had begun.

HISTORICAL SOCIETIES MEET IN OXFORD FRIDAY, APRIL 23

The next meeting of the Oxford County League of Historical Societies will be held April 23 at Oxford in the American Legion Hall beginning at 7:30 p. m. The Oxford Historical Society will be the host and the program will feature a presentation by Bob Smith of Smithway Studios, speaking on old photographs.

This will also be the organizational meeting of the group which will meet quarterly around Oxford County and attempt to assist local historical societies in meeting common challenges, sharing knowledge of local history and stimulating interest in the history of Western Maine. Most historical societies in Oxford County have already voted to join and to send at least their delegate and alternate to the meeting. Any member of a local historical group which has voted to join the League is automatically a member of the county organization and is urged to attend its meetings.

Members of the Bethel Historical Society at a regular meeting last fall voted to join the League and to send Society Director Stanley R. Howe as delegate and President Donald G. Bennett as alternate for the ensuing year. Any member of the Bethel Society wishing to attend this meeting should call the Society office so that a car pool could be arranged if necessary.

B.E.A.R.S., Inc.

(Bethel Emergency Ambulance & Rescue Service, Inc.)

Sunday, April 18, is the monthly meeting at 7 o'clock at the S.A.D. 44 garage. Bill Williams will show a film on drugs. This is a new film and should be very interesting.

Sunday, April 18, there will be a board of directors meeting just before the regular meeting—around 6:30.

Several members of the E.M.T. class have started their 10 hour work experience in a hospital emergency room. This is a required part of the course prior to completion.

Monday evening found many B.E.A.R.S. members assisting at E.M.T. class with automobile extrication. This was a practical session with hands-on patient assessment and removing actual persons from vehicles.

Safety Tip of the Week — Spring Storms

Remember those last few spring snow storms should be treated with as much respect as regular winter storms?
